

DEBORA TONELLI AT “SENTI CHI RICERCA”

July 9, 2019

The researcher from the Center for Religious Studies is being featured in the third episode of the radio format where FBK researchers talk about themselves

The title of the new episode of “Senti chi ricerca”, the radio show dedicated stories of life and science of the researchers at Fondazione Bruno Kessler is “Public relations with God”. This episode’s guest is Debora Tonelli, a philosopher and theologian who works for FBK’s ISR (Institute for Religious Studies) who has enthusiastically shared with us not only her studies in theology and philosophy but also the prejudices that often are associated with the figure of theologian or philosopher. Prejudices promptly refuted by the experiences told by the this researcher, who in her youth worked as a pr for a night club in Rome. The result was a dialogue full of deep theological reflections combined with lighter and amusing stories.

The initiative is carried out with the contribution of the communication project “Citizens for science-CISA” in the context of the call for proposals entitled “I comunicatori STAR della scienza”, funded by the Autonomous Province of Trento.

Listen to the episode!
