

FBK Live – Fake news and coronavirus: from the epidemic to the infodemic

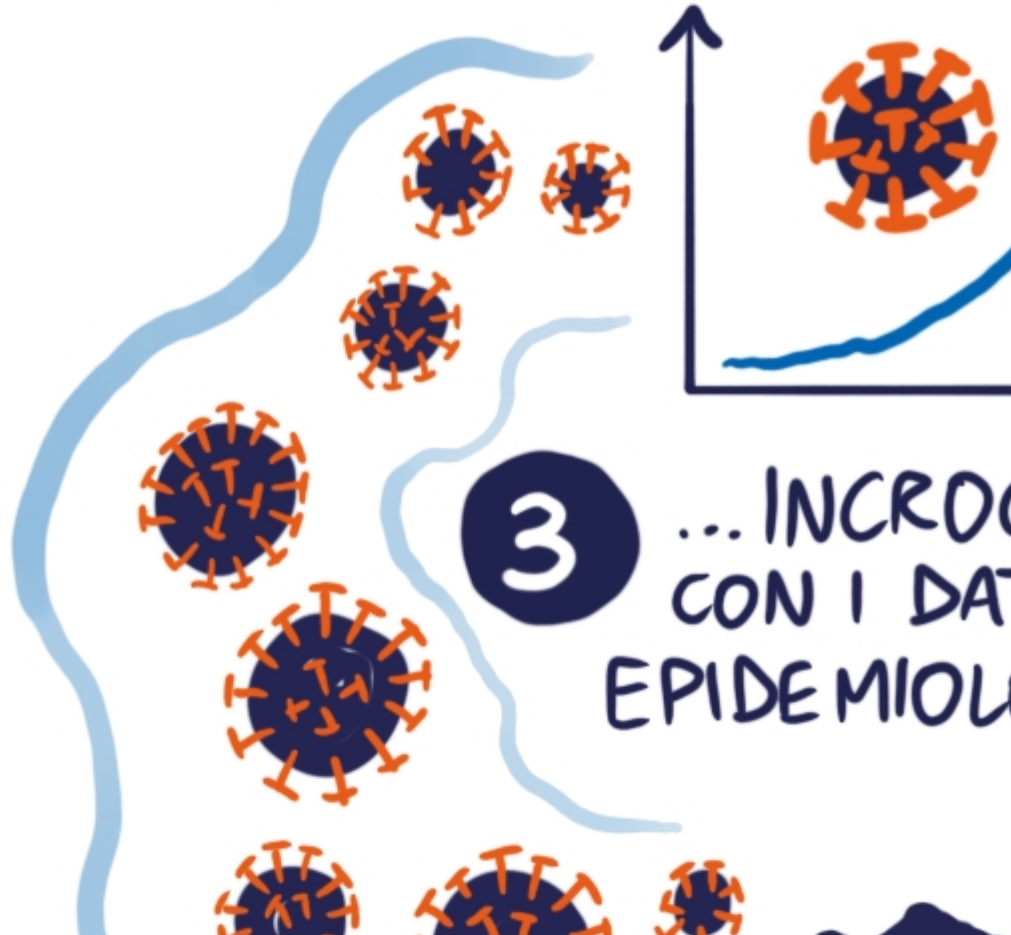

March 24, 2020

The first appointment of "FBK Live - La ricerca live" was broadcasted live on Facebook and Youtube. Guests are FBK researcher Manlio De Domenico and visual thinker Jacopo Sacquegno

A virtual discussion room on “hot” research topics. This is the spirit of “FBK Live – Live research”, a new format started on March 20th at 5 pm live on the Facebook channel of the Bruno Kessler Foundation.

In the first appointment, Manlio De Domenico, head of the CoMuNe Lab unit of FBK, chatted with Matteo Serra about the online digital platform recently developed by his research unit, which monitors the evolution of information on coronaviruses spread on Twitter. A plus to the event was the pencil of the visual thinker Jacopo Sacquegno, who visually represented the chat topics in his own way:
